LOCAL MATTER.

E. C. WOODSON, City Editor

MORNING EDITION.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

We learn that quite a number of our people will leave in a few days for Beaufort.

We were glad to see in our city yesterday, Jno. A. Womack, Esq., of Chatham county.

See the advertisement of W. C. Stronach, the well known Fayetteville street Grocer and Commission Merchant.

Prof. McIver, Superintendent of Instruction of this State, attends the Educational Convention at Elmira, N. Y., on the 4th of August.

The only case before the Mayor yesterday came up in the person of Michael Grady, an U. S. soldier, for disorderly conduct. Michael was turned over to his command.

It now said that Madison Hawkins, of Franklin, and Calvin Rogers, of this county, are among the seekers after the place of Captain I. J. Young, Collector of Revenue of this District.

Two colored women gouged each other on Cabarrus street yesterday afternoon. A couple of handsfull of hair and a few scratches was the sum total of the damage done on either side.

Prof. Alexander McIver will address the Normal School at Summerfield, Guilford county, N. C., at 11 o'clock A. M., 5th July, on "The Present Condition of Public Education in North Carolina." The importance of the subject should insure a general attendance of the people of that section.

A letter has been received by a gentleman in this city from Appleton Oaksmith, from Liverpool, saying that the Midland North Carolina Railroad will be pushed through. From the aforesaid letter we learn that the Midland Company are exceedingly anxious to purchase the Western N. C. R. R., and a gentleman was sent over to this country to examine into the affairs of the last mentioned road, but was lost on the ill-fated steamer Atlantic.

From present indications the excursion of the Printers to Kittrell's on the 4th of July, promises to be a grand affair. We learn that Billiard, Ten Pin and Shooting matches will come off during the day for a silver headed cane, silver cup, &c. Tickets for the round trip, including pic nic dinner and supper, free access to the grounds, ball room and all the pleasures of the day, can be had of either W. J. Edwards or Z. T. Broughton, at Edwards & Broughton, or C. E. Lee, at John Nichols & Co. A full programme will appear early next week.

THE BLANDY STEAM ENGINES AND SAW MILLS.—We invite attention to the advertisement of these engines and saw mills in this issue of our paper. The General Agent, Mr. W. C. Margan, has made large sales recently in this and adjoining States, and the certificates of a number of well known gentlemen attest the fact that the machinery which he sells comes up fully to the high standard claimed for it. Mr. Morgan has been in our midst for some months and has made a number of warm friends.

LADIES' BAZAAR.—The attendance at Tucker Hall last evening on the Ladies' Bazaar was very good, and from a view from the door everything seemed to be going on prosperously.

We hope that the ladies were handsomely compensated for their trouble, and a good round sum realized for the church. The receipts from the two nights exhibition we could not learn as the door-keeper did not know. We hope to be able to report more fully to-morrow.

MATRIMONIAL.—At Ridgeway, Wednesday last, Mr. W. L. Baxter, the Vineyardist, was united to the lovely Miss S. A. White, daughter of Captain T. L. White, at whose house they were married. Rev. Mr. Boshamer, of the M. E. Church, officiating. The happy pair left immediately for Beaufort. A large party of ladies and gentlemen attended the happy couple to the depot to wish them God speed.

"THE FARMER'S FRIEND."—Messrs. E. H. Plummer & Co., of Petersburg, Va., advertise the Farmer's Friend Plow as being the best in use. Large numbers of them have been sold in this State and they give universal satisfaction. They are also sold by Lem H. Adams, Esq., of this city.

SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION.—This morning at 7:30 o'clock the excursion train of the Methodist and Baptist Sunday Schools of Durham passes this city bound for Goldsboro. We return thanks for an invitation to attend, and hope the excursionists will have a pleasant time. We know our Goldsboro friends will give them a cordial welcome.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—We have already announced that the degree of LL. D. has been conferred upon the distinguished Gaillard by Rutherford College, in this State. None worthier. He is as eminent in the healing art as he was gallant on the field.

SUPERIOR COURT.—Yesterday the time of this Court was taken up with the trial of the bastardy docket. Quite a large number of cases were disposed of during the day.

RETURNED.—Gen. W. R. Cox reached the city a few days since from Tennessee and Western North Carolina, and has entered upon his duties as Solicitor. He went as far as Nashville in the former State.

Supreme Council Friends of Temperance.

THURSDAY—EVENING SESSION.

Council met at 5 o'clock p. m. Minutes read and approved.

The chair was occupied by the President and prayer offered by the Chaplain.

Rep. Morris offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is with deep regret we note the absence, and are apprised of the severe illness of our worthy brother, Major D. S. Hill, one of the founders of our Order, and an ex-President of this Supreme Council; and we assure our afflicted brother that he has our deepest sympathy, and also our prayers that he be restored to health and returned to those fields of temperance labor where for years his fidelity, experience, wisdom and prudence have rendered him eminently useful.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to brother Hill.

The death of Rev. N. F. Reid, D. D., a member elect of the Supreme Council, having been announced, a committee consisting of Revs. T. A. Carruth, W. B. Wellons and A. R. Raven, were appointed to draft suitable resolutions.

Rep. Butler offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Council advise the State Councils to recommend to their subordinate Councils that they appoint a committee of judicious members whose duty it shall be to publish, from time to time, in such religious and secular newspapers as may be accessible to them, original or selected articles on the subject of temperance, and so keep it before the public.

Rep. Whitaker made a report with regard to the Sons of the Soil, which was adopted, and he was chosen Grand Superintendent.

Rep. Whitley offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of this body be instructed to transmit to the Scribe of the Supreme Council of the United Friends of Temperance the report on the Constitution adopted today, requesting him to submit the same to the Supreme Council U. F. T., at its session July 30th, 1873, and inform this body through its Secretary of the action of that body as early as possible.

Rep. W. B. Wellons made a report from the Committee on Rituals, which was adopted

The Council then took a recess until 9 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The body resumed its business at 9 o'clock p. m.

The Committee on Finance reported, which was adopted.

The election of officers was taken up, and the following duly elected:

Resolved, That the selection of the place for the next session of this Supreme Council be made by the committee appointed by this Supreme Council in connection with that of the U. F. T., provided the consolidation is effected.

The Council decided to hold its next semi-annual session at Marion, S. C., in case the consolidation scheme is not effected.

Rep. Ott presented a report from the Committee on Constitution, which was adopted. Only a few unimportant amendments made. The report sustained the decision of the D. V. P., W. W. McKenzie, in a decision rendered in a case in Fayetteville.

Rev. Carruth offered the following report, which was adopted with a rising vote,

Whereas, Our highly esteemed and dearly beloved brother, Rev. Numa F. Reid, D. D., has recently been called away from his earthly labors, to the rest that remaineth for the people of God. Therefore,

Resolved, That, in this mysterious dispensation of God's providence we mournfully acquiesce, recognizing the truth that He doeth all things well, though we feel our great loss, in the church, in the temperance work and in our social circles, occasioned by this sad bereavement.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere condolence to his heart stricken wife and children, and beg them to allow us to share their sorrow, and mingle our tears with theirs in token of our profound grief.

Resolved, That, this report be spread upon our minutes—and that a certified copy be furnished the family of our deceased brother, and also, that, the same be furnished the Friend of Temperance and N. C. Christian Advocate for publication.

THOS. A. CARRUTH,
W. B. WELLONS,
A. R. RAVEN,

The Council adjourned until to-morrow morning 9 o'clock.

SUPREME COURT.—Court met yesterday at 9 a. m. All the Justices present except Judge Boyden who is still detained by sickness. The following cases were argued:

W. P. Lowe & Co., vs G. W. Young, et al., from Cleaveland. Busbee & Busbee for plaintiffs and W. P. Bynum and D. Schenck for defendant.

J. S. Carson, administrator vs Columbus Mills, surviving partner, &c., from Rutherford. Attorney General Hargrove and Argo & Harris for plaintiff and W. P. Bynum for defendant.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF CITY COMMISSIONERS.—The Board of City Commissioners held an adjourned meeting on Thursday evening. Mayor Whitaker presided. Messrs. Battle, Gorman, Ellison, Upchurch, Ricks, Johnson, Jones and Prairie, Commissioners, were present.

The dog tax question was discussed, and it was agreed that the Chief of Police should furnish medals for tax paid on dogs.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, it was ordered that, after advertisement for ten days, dogs captured on the streets without the aforesaid medal should be impounded and kept for two days, and if not claimed within that time, disposed of. Any persons capturing dogs on which tax has not been paid will be allowed 50 cents out of the city treasury for each capture.

Mr. Battle offered a resolution, which was adopted, that all warrants, past due bonds, coupons and other city indebtedness, which have been paid off, not heretofore cancelled, shall be cancelled as soon as practicable under the supervision of the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Battle, the Mayor and Commissioner Johnson were appointed to represent the city in the approaching meeting of the Stockholders of the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line Railroad Company.

On motion of Mr. Battle, the construction of a stone wall was ordered on Cemetery street.

The Sunday tonsorial question was next discussed, and terminated in the adoption of a resolution offered by Mr. Gorman, which places a fine of $10 and imprisonment of 48 hours on any barber following his profession during the Sabbath.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, Commissioner Jones was appointed a committee to consult with the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department in regard to a system of fire alarms.

A motion to abolish the office of City Surveyor was lost. The Board then went into the election of a City Surveyor and Fendall Beavers was chosen.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, the City Attorney was instructed to proceed against the R. & G. R. R., by indictment in the Superior Court, for the obstruction of Morgan and West streets.

A communication from the Fire Department recommending the purchase of a Babcock fire engine was read without action.

After the transaction of some further unimportant business the Board adjourned.

COMPLIMENTARY RESOLUTIONS.—At their session on yesterday, the Supreme Council of the Friends of Temperance passed the following resolutions complimentary to the accomplished wife of Rev. R. H. Whitaker, editor of that excellent temperance and family paper, the Friend of Temperance. The resolutions speak for themselves, and we take pleasure in publishing them as the compliment is in every way deserved:

1. Resolved, That we, the members of the Supreme Council of the Friends of Temperance, express our profound gratification at the presence of Mrs. Minnie E. Whitaker, the talented and untiring Editress of the "Social Circle" Department of the Friend of Temperance, the organ of our Order.

2. Resolved, That we present to her our hearty thanks for her vigorous efforts in behalf of the cause of Temperance, and specially in favor of our Order, and express our admiration of the dauntless spirit she has manifested in her published writings against the drinking habits of society.

3. Resolved, That we pledge her our sympathy and support in carrying forward the work so nobly begun, and wish for her a career in the future surpassing in brilliancy and success the glowing record of her past deeds.

STATE AGRICULTURAL JOURNAL.—We call attention to the new advertisement of this valuable weekly in our columns this morning.

We regard it as the very best agricultural paper that now comes to this office.

Capt. Fulghum, its indefatigable conducting Editor, has taken for his motto "Upward and Onward," and has already made his paper a successful enterprise.

Each department of the Journal is presided over by practical and competent gentlemen, and every issue of the paper is worth double its subscription price.

For only two dollars, the farmer can have at the end of the year a valuable compendium of the practical knowledge on all subjects relating to the cultivation of the soil.

MARSHALS FOR THE FAIR.—The following is the list of Marshals for the next Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Society, except a few appointments to be made by the Chief Marshal:

CHIEF MARSHAL:—Col. W. K. Davis, Franklin.

CAREY, N. C., June 16th, 1873.

W. C. Morgan, General Agent, Raleigh, N. C:

DEAR SIR:—The machinery purchased from you gives entire satisfaction. The Shingle Machine will cut from 10,000 to 12,000 per day. The work is well and accurately done.

The Saw Mill is cutting lumber finely; the largest day's work I have done with it was 17,375 feet. I have been in the lumber business for twenty years. The Blandy Engine of 25 horse power will do about double the work that I have ever had one to do of same estimated horse power.

If machinery is needed in this neighborhood you will have no difficulty in selling. My mill is very much admired.

Yours truly,
A. G. PAGE.

The counsel for Dana asked to have bail fixed, but the Commissioner said he had no authority; that the bail must be fixed by the District Judge, before whom the parties agreed to go. The bail will probably be fixed at $10,000. The prosecution intend to try the case at the present term of the United States District Court.

It is currently reported that Thomas A. Scott has perfected an arrangement for a new through route from New York to Washington, and will begin operations on Monday. The route will be over the present line to Philadelphia, thence via Lancaster to York, Penn., thence over the Northern Central to Baltimore and over the Baltimore and Potomac to Washington. There will be be two through trains daily, morning and evening.

In the Walworth trial there was a long discussion over the admission of the father's letters. Judge Davis decided to admit only such passages as contained threats. The prisoners' counsel especialy objected to the ruling. The letter of Walworth to his wife was read. After referring in most bitter and terrible terms to his being left only a portion of property in the trusteeship of his brother by the will of Reuben H. Walworth, he continues thus: "Now, Eilen Harding, knowing that I am helpless under that will, if you will persist in trying, year by year, to see how much of that trust property you get out of me by threats of law by personal blandishments to the, trustees, or by any other means; if you doubt and will not see that I ought to have something for my entire life, whether he intended me to or not, then mark what will be the finale of my vengeance upon that dead scoundrel and dog, who has made me so pitiable before men and before you. I will, and so help me the demon who writ, upon the persecuted and the proud spirited and the revengeful, I will when, stripped by you of my property, and you mean it, at last plunge my dagger into Frank and Tracey's heart and cut off the Walworth name forever. God d—m him, he has elevated them and degraded me, and you gloat over it. I have not one single firm right under his will. This you believe, and this has been the cause of your despising and abandoning with cold purpose. You contemplate my eventual beggary and humiliation. I will kill your boys and defeat the damned scoundrel in his grave, and cut off his damned name forever."

"Now you just persecute about that property and keep this thorn I have in my heart, and by the eternal God I will kill them and you too. Now you hunt my property any further, you God damned infamous bitch, and I will gut your pups as well as you. The God damned dead villian shant rob me of wife, children and property. If I can't have anything, I will have revenge. God damn you I have lost already everything what makes life tolerable."

This letter has no signature, and is addressed to "Mrs. Ellen H. Walworth, Saratoga Springs, N. Y."

Mrs. Walworth testified to personal violence of which the son had no knowledge.

In the trial of Woodhull, Claflin and Blood for sending obscene publications through the U. S. Mails, Judge Blatchford decided that in the act of 1873, a weekly or daily newspaper was not intended to be included among the list of obscene publications. In the act of 1873 the word "paper" is inserted and was intended to include a newspaper, which as he construed the previous acts on the subject, was not included in the statutes. The indictments in the present case was drawn under the statute of 1873 and the prosecution must consequently fail. The jury then rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Mrs. Walworth said that Frank showed signs of mental aberration in various ways, after the separation of his father and herself.

THE PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.

Col. D. Wyatt Aiken, of South Carolina, Deputy for the National Grange of the Patrons of Industry, delivered an address in the Court House in this city on Thursday last, in advocacy of the claims of this new organization.

The address was an able and interesting one, and was listened to with deep interest. Col. Aiken is a pleasant and entertaining speaker. He explained the origin, purposes and advantages of Farmers' Granges, and answered many objections which had been urged against them. He said it was a purely agricultural association—intended sorely for the protection of the farmers, and was in no sense political. Its chief aim was to advance the agricultural interests of the country by bringing the farmers frequently together, and thus binding them in sympathy and unity of action, and enabling them to receive the benefits of friendly intercourse, combined effort and mutual assistance.

The social features of the Granges are advantageous. The farmers as a class, especially in the South, need more intercourse among themselves. Something practical could be learned from the most ignorant farm laborer. In a conversation between any two farmers for one hour, it was a rare thing if one or the other did not receive some new information or a new idea. The Granges served as agricultural clubs in each neighborhood, where valuable information was received and imparted; and thus the social features were not only useful in promoting friendly meetings and cementing kind feelings, but were of great advantage in the circulation of practical hints for the cultivation of the soil.

The order of the Patrons of Husbandry was not a political organization. It had no connection with Mr. Pool's new party, the Workingmen's Labor Unions. It never inquired into a man's political views, and when a member came into the meeting, he came as a farmer, and not as a politician, lawyer, doctor, mechanic or minister, or anything else. It is no more political than the Masons, the Odd-Fellows, or the churches. The members were not required to vote for a candidate because he is a member of the order. There is no more obligation resting upon a member of the Farmers' Granges to support a brother member for an office than upon a member of the church to vote for a candidate who happens to belong to his denomination.

The admission of females to membership had been urged as an objection. But this was an important feature in elevating the order and keeping the men decent and well-behaved. No man would be ashamed of any organization of which his wife was a member. The presence of ladies would exercise a pure and refining influence, and would insure decorum and good deportment. Besides, women were frequently managers of farms, and are of course, as deeply interested as men, in whatever concerns the agricultural interests of the country. Such women will be directly benefited in various ways by becoming members, and the advantages of the order should be extended to them. If men always allowed their wives and daughters to accompany them, there will be no danger of their going into disreputable society.

The secrecy of the Granges has been objected to by some. There is very little secret about the order—just enough to make it permanent and give it compactness and strength. If the Masons and Odd Fellows were to open their doors to the public and remove the mystic ties that bind them together, their influence for good would be at once at an end, and the lodges would soon disband and dissolve. The secrecy of the Granges is on the same principle that merchants have their private cost mark. If a merchant would tell his customers the cost of every article of merchandize, he would not be able to effect many sales. The customers would go to another store and probably pay a larger profit unwittingly for the same articles. The secrecy of the Granges is necessary, as it is in Masonry and Odd Fellowship, to bind the farmers together in brotherhood, to insure concert of action, and to give consistency and permanency to the organization.

The order is a benevolent one. Instances were given where the Granges gave pecuniary aid and assistance to the members who had suffered any misfortunes. In South Carolina, where a member lost nearly all his property by fire, the local Grange contributed largely to relieve him, and started him to work again.

Its pecuniary advantages were very great. By purchasing at wholesale any articles of merchandize, they could usually be bought at a reduced price. The principle on which the Granges operated enable them always to purchase at wholesale prices. The members could club together and buy their farming implements directly from the manufacturer. A plough which is retailed at ten dollars, could be purchashd for nine, at the wholesale price. Col. Aiken stated that he had himself saved one hundred dollars in the purchase of an engine, because of his membership in the Grange.

A member of a Grange wanted an article for his farm; he would consult his brother members, and find out that several of them wanted the same article; they would club together, and send direct to the manufacturer or wholesale dealer, and thus be enabled to get it at a greatly reduced price. He said in this way, he had known farmers to send for mules and save twenty-five dollars on each animal.

By this means, the system of middlemen and commission merchants was dispensed with. Instead of paying profits to agents, who came to the farmer's house to sell a machine or any farming implement, the farmer himself reaped the profit by dealing directly with headquarters. On the same principle commission merchants were discarded. The speaker gave an instance where the members of the Grange united their crops of cotton to the amount of ten thousand bales and shipped to one man, who agreed to sell it for ¼ per cent commission—thus saving two per cent on the regular charge of a commission merchant. The same thing could be done everywhere, and thus the farmers of the country could be saved the two per cent commission that now goes into the hands of commission merchants.

These were only a few of the advantages of the order. The speaker would not tell all, as it would be improper—the secrecy forbidding. He said it was a little remarkable that the farmers alone of all other classes were at the mercy of buyers. The merchants set their own price on their property. If you do not choose to pay their price it is all right. Professional men set their own value on their services. The lawyer, not the client, would say how much he should have as a fee in any case. The physician, not the patient, would make his own charge for his services and medicine. And so on through every profession and trade. But when your farmer had cotton for sale, he would bring it to Raleigh, and let the buyer fix a price for him. He was in the power of his customer, and instead of dictating his own terms, relied entirely on the man who is interested in making a profit out of his labor. This ought not so to be, and it is time the farmer was becoming more independent and self-assertive.

We have given this synopsis, which is written from memory alone, not with the view of reporting Col. Aiken's speech, but to give our readers some idea of the principles of the new movement among the farmers, which is so popular in the North West, and is destined to extend all over the country. We think the organization is calculated to be of great service to the farming community, provided it can be continued on the basis now claimed for it by Col. Aiken. Its purposes are commendable and they seem practicable. If the society can be kept aloof from politics and will not be made an instrument for the promotion of ambitious and dangerous men, it may prove of great service to the country.

There are some objections to the formation of Granges on the plan proposed, which we will refer to hereafter.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT.

We have been shown the certificate of merit awarded to Miss Bell, of Washington, N. C., at Cooper Institute, New York, on the first of May, for skill in drawing. Miss Bell at the same time also received one of the three silver medals of the Trustees for artistic work. She had been at the Institute only three or four months, and bore off the honors in a school of over seven hundred pupils, some of whom had received instruction two and three years.

TO OUR EXCHANGES.

We have received a number of letters of inquiry from our exchanges, asking us what course we intend to pursue in regard to the new postage law, which goes into effect on the first of July.

We do not wish to cut off any of the State papers from our exchange list, and will continue to send them the NEWS unless we receive some intimation that our paper is not desired. We do not feel willing to dispense with any of our North Carolina cotemporaries; as we make use of them all in getting up our State items, and we trust that our State exchange list will continue unbroken.

We will, however, be compelled to discontinue a number of our exchanges published out of the State, and to them notification will be given.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Billiousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal. It effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish many persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the ears of the tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts, wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally this liniment is everywhere regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible.

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:

"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, under various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangement of the viscera. As an apperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.
H. POTTER."

Prepared by E. R. Beckwith, (successor to Dr. John Beckwith) Proprietor, Petersburg, Va. Sold by Druggist generally at 25 cents per box. Joseph Carr, Wholesale Agent, Petersburg, Va.

The dwelling house of J. W. Bordeaux, near Burgaw, New Hanover county, was burglarized on Sunday to the extent of a gold watch and chain and $200 in currency.

On last Thursday at Kingsbury, Cumberland county, two negroes named Nelson Ray and Sam Gilmore got into a row, which resulted in Ray wounding Gilmore in the breast by a pistol shot.

There will be a meeting of the citizens of Rockingham, at Wentworth, on the first Monday in July for the purpose of taking action in regard to the collection of facts in the history of the county during the war.

Personal Habits of the Shah of Persia.

Dr. Russell, writing to the London Times from Berlin, thus alludes to the personal habits of the Shah of Persia:

The Shah is, according to European notions, a savage in many respects—proud, wilfull, sensual and arbitrary. If punctuality be the politeness of princes, as it is said to be, the Shah would, in consequence of his utter indifference to engagements, be one of the most ill mannered men in the world. He kept the parade at Potsdam, ordered by the Kaiser, waiting a couple of hours. He kept the Queen for half an hour at the railway station waiting for him. He would not go to breakfast when it was announced at the time of invitation, but walked about in the garden, and then, seeing an arbor which pleased him, desired to have his breakfast sent to him there. When he sat at dinner yesterday he put his fingers in his plate and ate with them, and if he came on a piece of some dish which he did not not like, he took it out of his mouth and threw it down—not on the ground, but on the Queen's (Empress's) dress. If free from the more horrid vices attributed to Persians by travelers, he is quite without shame or scruple in his disregard of what is called morality by Christains and good Mussulmans.

A NOVEL STRIKE.—A curious strike is reported from Treves, in Prussia. The beggars of that city have for a long time been receiving a dole for praying on a fixed day for the prosperity of the town. As the price of provisions rose in the market so also rose the price of these prayers, and recently the pious beggars refused to pray at all unless their wages were doubled. To this the corporation demurred, and there followed considerable negotiation, but the "strike" ultimately prevailed, for the loss of these benedictions was not to be thought of, and, the beggars remaining firm, the corporation yielded.

The Waterbury (Ct.) American tells the story of a very scrupulous man who recently left that city for the West. Being indebted to a shop mate in his former home in the sum of 18 cents, he forwarded the amount the other day in old-fashioned pennies, the express prepaid, costing him fifty-one cents. The man who received the money has invested it in sackcloth and ashes.

A company in California having purchased 50,000 acres of land in San Digo county for the purpose of cattle and sheep raising, have employed a large number of Indians as herdsmen.

Louis Napoleon's private estate amounts to $2,000,000. Nobody at all familiar with his opportunities for making money ever credited the yarns about his poverty. Whenever he wanted to turn an honest penny, he housed himself at the Tuilleries, and let the report go forth that he was ill. The Paris Bourse responded at once, like a fine chord to the touch of a master. Stocks tumbled, and His Majesty's agents bought. In the spring of 1867 an American speculator made over two hundred thousand francs on an intimation of the Emperor's approaching "indisposition." There was no chance for Louis Napoleon to die very poor.

A Philadelphia surgeon was called the other day to a house up town to amputate the leg of a woman. He is a near-sighted man, and when he reached the house he got into the wrong room and calmly sawed off the limb of the servant girl, who was a German, and who had come over two days before, and who thought it was the custom of the country.

Dr. Hammond, of New York, claims that the seeds of cholera exist always in the human excrements, and only need certain conditions of heat and moisture to germinate into an epidemic. If this be true, the world is indebted to Dr. Hammond for a new and most important discovery.

Judges Ingraham and Brady have decided in the general term of the Supreme Court of New York that a man cannot recover damages for the death of his wife, even if wilfully murdered, but he may sue for the value of her services and society while she is under the care of the doctor.

The Page (Va.) Courier (Democratic) nominates the following military ticket, and says it will be elected by 20,000 majority: Gen. James S. Kemper, for Governor, Gen. James A. Walker, for Lieutenant Governor and General James H. Williams for Attorney General.

Henry Probasco is going to erect and give to Cincinnati a colossal art hall, filled with his collection of gems, antiquities, pictures, &c. He is now absent in Europe, perfecting his plans.

Negro preachers in Nashville, Tenn., are working in the interest of undertakers. They exhort their flocks not to follow the advice of white physicians, and are dying by scores.

A Parisian musical dictionary defines a shout to be "an unpleasant noise produced by overstraining the throat, for which great singers are well paid and small children well punished."

I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, and regard it as an invaluable remedy in these attacks. It has not failed to give relief in any instance.

ALMOST A RUNAWAY!!
The Greatest Excitement Out in Raleigh the Other Day.

A wagon full of men, women and children came tearing down Morgan street at full speed, but was fortunately stopped at the corner of Dawson, in front of J. W. Brown's store before any damage was done. On inquiry it was found that they had heard of the arrival of a number of those excellent lately introduced into our city by Mr. Brown, and were afraid all would be gone before they could get them. They, however, succeeded in getting a supply of them, as well as of the Oil which Mr. Brown is now manufacturing at his store, and which used with the "Vesta Gas Burner" gives a light equal in brilliancy to gas light, and costing far less, the fluid being only 35c per gallon.

A full supply still on hand, and citizens will do well to call AT ONCE. ju24-3t

SELECTED POETRY

BEFORE THE GLASS.

Her maiden twines the rainbow pearls
About her golden hair,
While loosely yet some wayward curls
Caress her forehead fair;
Then clasps around her graceful throat
More pearls on velvet warm:
Ah! never yet did white robes float
About so sweet a form.

She rises; towards the mirror tall
She turns her satined feet,
Her glances quickly rise and fall,
So fair a sight to meet.
The gentle blushes come and go
As eyelids droop and lift,
For ah! she cannot choose but know
She has the fatal gift.

Will knowledge make her wise in time,
And teach her that her dower
Is fruitful source of many a crime,
Has victims every hour;
Go, Ethel, win in beauty's race,
Remembering ere you start,
Unlovely is the loveliest face
That hides a truthless heart.

The Shah's Jewels.

The jewels of the Shah have quite surpassed the reports of their size and value which preceeded their owner's arrival. The Treasury of Persia, we all know, was rich, to an incretitable richness, with accumulated wealth of the sort; but no one was prepared to see mortalibus oculis, a diamond nearly twice the size of the Koh-i-noor, or "Mountain of Light," (now in the possession of the Queen of England, once Runjeet Sing, the Lion of Lahore's greatest glory,) stuck in front of a man's sword-belt, and five diamonds, each larger than that jewel of jewels, en echelon up his coat from waist to shoulder. These stones are scarcely cut and do not show as they ought, but they are of surpassing purity. The Shah's sword-belt is a treasure-house in itself. The sheath is studded with rubies, emeralds, and diamonds, which shame their setting of purest gold. The front of his coat is garnished with rows of brilliants instead of lace. The collar and sleeves are crusted with them, and his orders are of the most precious jewels. His spurs splash like sunbeams. All this on the person of a man who has nothing noble in mein or face, although he is above the average height of the Indian Mussulman nobleese.

RESTORING PARIS.—In addition to the moral restoration which the new Government are making their first duty, material restoration is progressing.—Twelve million francs have been voted for the reconstruction of the Hotel de Ville, and for the repair of the Tuileries, the Conseil d'Etat, the Palais de Justice, the Palais Royal, the Louvre, the Vendome Column, the barracks, &c., we may estimate that an equal amount will have to be voted and expended. If we add to this the loss caused by the burning of the Ministry of Fiuance, the breaches made in the fortifications, the damage to Forts Issay and Vanves, and the cost of retaking Paris, we shall have a sum of four hundred millions of francs which the insurrection of the 18th of March lost France. All this was done by people who, having nothing, could not be held pecuniarily responsible.—N Y. Express.

Among the various new suggestions thrown out as straws to catch the wind of public opinion—favorable or adverse—the New York World starts one of a "suicide's gallery." The appearance and disappearance of heirs of great estates, the finding of so many unknown dead, who, by means of a photograph, might be recognized years after, gives to the idea, at the first glance, a striking effect. Sir Roger Tichborne, the lost Sir Massingberd, who probably died, and certainly disappeared in South America; Sir Charles Napier, whose will was proved, and his estate in the hands of the executors, when he came to England, after a long journey; Lord Aberdeen, who, a common sailor, was drowned a short time ago—all show, being but prominent types, how common such incidents are.

NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC, 1873

Calculated by Dr. Craven, and compiled by L. Branson, printed on fine-sized and calendered paper, neatly and elegantly.

It contains many useful recipes, much valuable statistical matter, and many
